TAKT PLEASED AT NOMINATION OF HARDING

President Has a High Estimate of Ohio Republican Nominee.

WARREN G. HARDING.

BIDDEFORD POOL, Me., July 28.—Wireless telegraph brought to President Taft early yesterday afternoon the news of the nomination of Warren G. Harding as the republican candidate for Governor of Ohio. President Taft seemed delighted over the outcome in Ohio. The President has a very high estimate of Mr. Harding. He said that with the possible exception of former Senator Foraker he regarded Mr. Harding as the best campaigner in the state of Ohio on either side. Mr. Taft said Mr. Harding is a forcible and eloquent man, and he gave every indication in his informal discussion of the situation that he looked upon Mr. Harding as about the strongest man the convention could have selected.

The President made it plain that at no time had he opposed the nomination of James R. Garfield. Both in conversation with the Ohio leaders and in written communications the President expressly stated that if Mr. Garfield should be the nominee he would tender him his hearty support. Harding's Prediction in February. Mr. Taft related in this connection an incident of last February, when Mr. Harding called on him at the White House in Washington. Mr. Harding said he had come to the President because he had heard Mr. Taft had decided to support Garfield for the nomination. The President replied that the report was entirely without foundation. He said he was not interfering in the Ohio situation in any way, and would not. "Then," said Harding, enthusiastically, "I will be the next Governor of Ohio." Mr. Taft said the nomination of Harding was most pleasing, and he hoped the candidate's prediction as to his success would come true.

Ticket at Columbus Completed.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 28.—None of the leaders in the republican convention committed himself to any statement as to the outlook after the ticket was completed yesterday afternoon. Mr. Garfield saying that he would defer any remarks he might have to make until he got to Cleveland, and the other leaders indicating that four almost sleepless nights of work and worry prevented them from thinking up anything appropriate to say at once.

The ticket is made up as follows: For governor—Warren G. Harding of Marion.

For lieutenant governor—Francis W. Treadway of Cleveland.

For secretary of state—Granville W. Mooney of Columbus.

For attorney general—U. Grant Denman of Toledo.

For treasurer of state—Rudy A. Archer of Belmont county.

For justices of the supreme court—William B. Crary of Columbus, and Augustus N. Summers of Springfield.

For clerk of the supreme court—John S. McNutt of Salem.

For dairy and food commissioner—Reneck W. Dunlap of Kingston.

For member of the board of public works—George H. Watkins of Portsmouth.

For commissioner of common schools—John W. Zeller of Findlay.

LOG OF THE MONITOR

INTERESTING RELIC GIVEN TO THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Entries Cover the Period of the Celebrated Engagement With the Ironclad Merrimac.

The original log book of the famous Monitor, covering the period of her engagements with the Confederate ironclad Merrimac in Hampton roads March 9, 1862, has been given to the Navy Department, to be preserved among its historic records.

The restoration of the log to the department was due to Capt. Louis Stodder, of the United States revenue cutter service, now living in Brooklyn, N. Y., and an officer on the Monitor during her entire service. For years he has treasured the log among his most valuable possessions, but as old age has crept over him he desired to see it placed where its preservation might be assured. Hence he forwarded it to the library of the Navy Department.

The entries cover dates from February 26 to September 11, 1862, and tell of the little "cheese box on a raft" foundering off Cape Hatteras December 31, 1862, when Stodder was acting master; of her engagements with the Confederate batteries at Sewells point, Hampton roads and at Fort Darling, in the James river. But by far the most interesting notes concern the fight with the Merrimac. Among the entries Sunday, March 9, 1862, are the following:

Entries on Day of Fight.

"4 to 8 p.m., fine weather and calm. At sunrise saw 3 steamers lying under Sewells point. Made one out to be the rebel steamer Merrimac. 720 got under way and stood towards her and pined all hands to quarters.

"J. WERER." "From 8 to meridian. Fine, clear weather. The rebel steamers advancing and opened fire on the Minnesota. 8:20 opened fire on the Merrimac; from that time until 12 noon continued engaged with the Merrimac.

"From meridian to 4 p.m. Clear weather. At 12:30 rifle shell struck the pilot house, severely injuring Commander Worden. 1 p.m., the Merrimac hauled off in a disabled condition. Stood toward the Minnesota and received on board Assistant Secretary Fox of the Navy, C. N. N., Capt. Worden left for Fort Monroe in the charge of Surgeon Logie.

"GEORGE FREDERICKSON." Those who inspected the log drew attention to the first entry, which should have been for "a.m." instead of "p.m."
